Artéfact

By Carl Leblanc

Investigative journalist François Bélanger finds the Second World War barreling into his life on two separate occasions. First the alleged war criminal "Krylenko" found hiding in a quiet neighbourhood; then the curious artifact displayed in a showroom of the Holocaust Museum: a wish book prepared by a group of young women in the dark hours of December 1944, a birthday present intended for a fellow inmate by the name of Klara Kowalski.

Possibly for the first time in his career, Bélanger is actually affected by the investigation. Where does the book come from? Who were these women? And is the story as comforting as people have been led to believe? Did it even really happen?

Clearwater

A Novel

By Kim McCullough

Claire Sullivan struggles to overcome loss and dislocation, in order to reconnect with the central people in her life and restart her emotional growth in this powerful coming-of-age novel. Claire's move to Northern Manitoba is made easier when she meets Jeff, the quiet loner next door. They spend countless hours wandering the wilderness, forging a fast and firm friendship. But underneath the deceptive calm of her new life, darkness lurks. Claire's sister is slipping under the waves of depression, while Jeff has his own troubles to deal with at home. Two shocking acts of violence converge, forcing Claire and Jeff apart, until the time comes when, together, they must face the past.

Dollybird

A Novel

By Anne Lazurko

Housekeeper or whore? Twenty-year-old Moira, banished to the bleak prairie landscape of southern Saskatchewan in 1906, must come to terms with her circumstances, her pioneer environment, and her employment as a “dollybird” with a volatile young homesteader. The term dollybird can designate either housekeeper or whore, or both, in the vocabulary of the Missouri-Coteau region in 1906. The community is left to draw its own conclusions. A saga of birth, death, and the violent potential of both man and the elements, Dollybird explores the small mercies that come to mean more than they should under a prairie sky that waits, not so quietly, for these characters to fail.

Dreaming of Elsewhere

Observations on Home

By Esi Edugyan

Writing about belonging is not a simple task. Esi Edugyan chooses to intertwine fact and fiction, objective and subjective in an effort to find out if one can belong to more than one place, if home is just a place or if it can be an idea, a person, a memory, or a dream. How “home” changes, how it changes us, and how every farewell carries the promise of a return. Readers of Canadian literature, armchair travellers, and all citizens of the global village will enjoy her explorations and reflections, as we follow her from Ghana to Germany, from Toronto to Budapest, from Paris to New York.

SHORT STORIES
NOUVELLES

Every Happy Family

By Dede Crane

Humorous and heartbreakingly real, Every Happy Family explores the colourful—and sometimes repurposed—fabric of the Wright family. The stories mark turning points in the lives of the individual family members, as well as in their relationships with each other. Married parents Jill and Les are the warp of the Wright family tapestry—Jill beginning to lose her mother while Les is fighting medical problems of his own. Each family member’s thread unravels from the others, as older son Quinn finds a dangerous way to combat shyness, younger son Beau seeks success and closure at boarding school, and adopted daughter Pema explores her roots. Alone and together, the Wrights crash along, unable to give up on themselves or each other...hard as they might try.

The Ghosts of Smyrna

By Loren Edizel

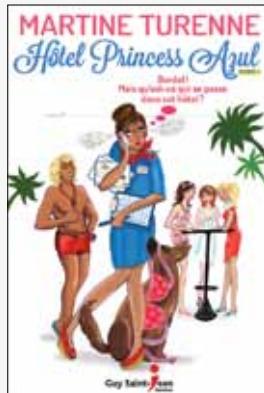

Aya Katerina, a neighbourhood in Ottoman Smyrna at the end of World War I. Through the eyes of Niko "the Orphan" we see this neighbourhood going about its ways. We meet Elena, Niko's aunt and talented artist; his idiosyncratic uncle, Manolis the Greek doctor who loves her; Nazim the Turkish journalist who also loves her and his grandmother who holds the family together. As the War draws to a close, these people await their fates as the Greek armies invade from the west and the forces of Ataturk from the east. A story of love under impossible circumstances and a novel about growing up, this is also an account about a people, a neighbourhood, and a legendary city.

Hôtel Princess Azul

De Martine Turenne

Tout est là dans cette nouvelle trilogie follement distrayante : intrigue, humour, situations cocasses et réalistes, personnages hyperattachants et dénouements inattendus. Enfin une littérature légère, joyeuse et rafraîchissante pour les femmes de plus de quarante ans qui veulent plus que la sempiternelle recherche du prince charmant propre à la chicklit traditionnelle ! Radiée pour une période de deux ans de l'Ordre des psychologues pour avoir injurié et molesté un client, Geneviève Cabana se retrouve, à 48 ans, agente à destination dans un resort de la République dominicaine. Cette nouvelle série de romans nous transporte illlico dans les tropiques et nous fait vivre les péripéties rocambolesques de Geneviève et d'une foule de personnages colorés.

Divertissement tout compris !

I Guess We Missed the Boat

A Travel Memoir

By Barry Finlay

This hilarious story opens with a meeting in a hotel room in Miami, Florida. When eight intrepid travellers, brought together by marriage and with retirement in common, sit reminiscing about their travel experiences, the memory banks open and humorous events start to spill out. Cowboy Ron, Ed the Negotiator, Joke-a-Minute Jim, and Practical Carol are part of the motley crew that experiences skiing mishaps, malfunctioning airplanes, a near fistfight on a cruise ship on the azure seas of the Caribbean and trying to explain ice hockey to some African children. The author balances many more challenges of travel with vivid descriptions of visits to exotic locales and philanthropic activities to help the less fortunate around the world. This is an exhilarating read!

Il pleuvait des oiseaux

By Jocelyne Saucier

July 29, 1916. In the woods of Northern Ontario, the flames are rising. On that day, the young Boychuck will narrowly escape death, forever scarred by the sight of his homeland in ashes. Decades later, a photographer takes interest in the survivors of the Great Fires that ravaged the province at the beginning of the twentieth century, venerable old hermits living deep in the woods, still prizing their freedom.

A story of survival and dignity, a shining demonstration that love, hope and the desire to be free do not wither with age.

In Times Wanting

By Kevin Morris

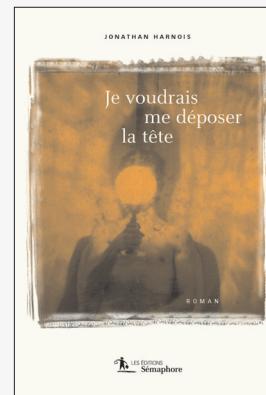

A much-awaited visit from a former love sets Berrin on a trajectory that reaches over a decade back to both the delights and traumas that had caught them up in the Sierra Alta of Mexico. Desires and doubts, memories and dreams, bliss and horror, are revived as they try to map out new lives for themselves in a new world order where roots and community, both rural and urban, mirror the north/south divide that still defines our world.

Je voudrais me déposer la tête

De Jonathan Harnois

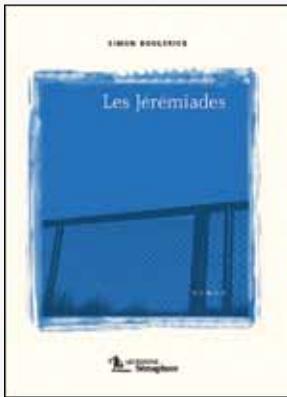

Réaction d'un jeune après le suicide d'un de ses amis. Description du mal-être dans les banlieues monotones, du sentiment qu'il n'y a pas d'avenir pour les jeunes. Une histoire prenante qui ne fait pas la morale, qui ne juge et condamne personne et, en bout de ligne, un hymne à la vie. Une écriture d'une grande finesse.

Finaliste au prix Anne-Hébert 2006, ce roman a été adapté au théâtre par Claude Poissant du PàP sous le titre « Je voudrais me déposer la tête », et au cinéma par Stefan Miljevic sous le titre « Le lendemain de la fête ».

Just Pretending

By Lisa Bird-Wilson

A deadbeat dad tries to reconnect with his daughter after 22 years away. A selfish poet has been scarred by an upbringing that leaves him emotionally distant from his children and spouse. A pot-smoking middle-aged man undertakes a modest quest for meaning following a brush with mortality. A fourteen-year-old girl struggles to come to terms with her feelings of abandonment. At the centre of the stories are notions of identity and belonging, and the complex relationships between children and parents, both those who are real and those who are just pretending.

A debut short story collection which explores the Métis themes of being forsaken, lost, and trying to figure out where one is supposed to fit in.

HISTORICAL FICTION
ROMAN HISTORIQUENot Exactly a War Hero

The Extraordinary Adventures of Alfred Mondou

By Ray Verdon

Ray Verdon's riveting tale makes you want to laugh and cry, and question history as he shines a light on Canada's Conscription Crisis and zombies—men forced to serve as reservists to defend Canadian shores during WWII, and reviled because they didn't go over to the fighting fields. As Verdon discovers, little was recorded about their treatment. One zombie, Alfred Mondou, is chased through Canada's three solitudes by police, military and bounty hunters; Mondou goes through more heroics than Indiana Jones and Robin Hood. One pursuer, Mac Gleason, learns about a secret zombie network—will Mondou finally get caught by a nosy old coot?

Oui, je le veux... et vite !

By Amélie Dubois

During a wedding party, Annie, Stephanie and Jasmine take part in the traditional bouquet toss, supposed to determine the next bride-to-be. While this innocent gesture nears catastrophe, the three girls become awardees of an unexpected prize: a trip for two in the Caribbean Islands. Following a loud and drunken discussion as to who should get to go, a singular challenge is set: the first one to become engaged to her lover wins it all.

The rules: None. The timeframe: Three months. And the girls will show no mercy to each other in order to be the first to say "I do".

A made-for-movie book all women will adore! More than 25,000 copies sold: a five-time bestseller in Quebec.

Résurrection

Les Maudits, Tome 1

By Édith Kabuya

"What really happened the night Vince saved me? I couldn't tell you. But I do know two things. I didn't just nearly die, I did die! By bringing me back to life, Vince made me one of the Damned, haunted forever by the netherworld." —Robin Gordon, 16

A success in French Canada, Résurrection is being launched in France under the Black Moon/Hachette label alongside bestselling series Twilight, The Vampire Diaries, The Caster Chronicles, and many more... Filled with love, bewitching, secret brotherhoods, blood, golems and treason, this paranormal novel for young adults is considered totally original and its very young author highly talented.

The Sixth String

By John Owens

If your life were at stake, what would you do to survive? How do you continue in the face of inconceivable cruelty? Can you reconcile a thirst for revenge with a plea for mercy? Does love or art even matter? These questions confront Nicholae, a gifted Gypsy guitarist and the narrator of The Sixth String as he tells of his reckless, often bawdy adventures across Europe leading to his entrapment in the Nazi machine. A gripping tale of suspense, a moving love story and a unique look at the fate of more than half a million Roma during World War II, the novel is also a meditation on evil and, above all, a tribute to the artistic spirit.

Les Souliers de Mandela

By Eza Paventi

In this debut novel, the author deftly depicts not only the African experience, but also the twists and turns of a tumultuous inner journey, ultimately proving that the more we know about other people, the better we understand our own identity. When a downcast Fleur Fontaine arrives on the African continent, she does so tentatively and falteringly. She finds herself in a country in the midst of rising from the ashes, and in so doing she confronts her own demons. Drawing her inspiration from Nelson Mandela, she learns how to start anew and how to forgive. As she moves forward along the long, winding road to her freedom, she discovers that Mandela has left some very big shoes to fill.

Swedes' Ferry

A Novel

By Allan Safarik
Illustrated by Frederic Remington

In May 1894, a solitary rider robs the First National Bank in Bismarck, N.D. of the Great Northern Railway payroll, and in the process kills the bank manager. These events trigger a chain reaction when the Railway's owner, James J. Hill, the financial mogul known as the Empire Builder, calls in the notorious Pinkerton Detective agency. William Pinkerton unleashes his sleazy henchman Jiggs Dubois to recover the money and bring in the head of the varmint who took it. A host of other characters, both historical and invented, all play a part in this picaresque tale that unfolds on the stark landscape along the dangerous Canada/US prairie border at the end of the 19th Century.

Sweet Life

By Linda Biasotto

Sweet Life is a collection of short fictions which not only entertain but dramatize in alarming clarity the issues of lives on the edge. The characters, who range from preschool to elderly, live anywhere from Vancouver Island to northern Italy. Children struggle with family problems; lonely women make determined but not always wise decisions about love; men and women struggle against the twin enemies of grief and trauma. Despite these fraught circumstances, Sweet Life also uses humour to infuse these stories with compassion, lighting the way to warmth and tenderness.

Alice Eats

A Wonderland Cookbook

Pierre A. Lamielle and Julie Van Rosendaal
(authors & illustrators)

This delightful volume is the full text of the original Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, by Lewis Carroll, with recipes and photographs by Julie Van Rosendaal and new, full-colour illustrations by Pierre A. Lamielle. The assortment of inventive recipes in this book is inspired by characters and events from the original story. There is also a special tea-party section inspired, of course, by the famously chaotic and surreal Mad Hatter's Tea Party. Whether this book is for a child's dreamy tea-party or a grown-up's costume-fantasy event or a creative afternoon in the kitchen, Alice Eats will delight, entertain and inspire.

The ANIE

A math assessment tool that reveals learning and informs teaching

By Kevin Bird and Kirk Savage

The ANIE (Assessment of Numeracy in Education) is a teacher-developed tool that uses numeracy and performance standards to assess student understanding of math concepts, and plan timely and targeted intervention where it is needed most. This simple book introduces a single-page assessment template that encourages students to tell stories to explain math problems and helps them recognize the relevance of math in the real world. The book describes a step-by-step process for solving any math question, offers proven techniques for introducing the assessment template, and suggests easy ways to grade and interpret the results, along with student samples to illustrate the ANIE in action.

The Answer Is Still No

Voices of Pipeline Resistance

Edited by Paul Bowles and Henry Veltmeyer

The Answer Is Still No is an important, urgent book that compiles interviews with people who live along the route of the proposed Enbridge pipeline in Northern British Columbia. The oil pipeline and supertankers will link the tar sands of Alberta to the demand of the growing Asian market. This edited collection takes the passionate words and voices of twelve citizens and activists and results in one powerful position when it comes to blind economic development at the expense of our environment and communities: The answer is still “no.”

A Book of Hope

By Lise Bourbeau
Illustrated by Monica Shields

This book seeks to present a perception that is new and different from anything that has been written to date. Lise Bourbeau uses an unprecedented approach that is based on the thousands of cancer stories she has heard in her career. Through this book and the many experiences shared in it, Lise Bourbeau offers you only gentle methods that do not involve struggle, because fighting demands so much energy that it leaves none for anything else. Liberate yourself from the control this word has over you and transform it into a springboard for inner peace.

Colonized Classrooms

Racism, Trauma and Resistance in Post-Secondary Education

By Sheila Cote-Meek

Sheila Cote-Meek discusses how Aboriginal students confront narratives of colonial violence in the post-secondary classroom, while they are, at the same time, living and experiencing colonial violence on a daily basis. Basing her analysis on interviews with Aboriginal students, teachers and Elders, Cote-Meek deftly illustrates how colonization and its violence are not a distant experience, but one that is being negotiated every day in universities and colleges.

Comment j'ai vaincu la douleur et l'inflammation chronique par l'alimentation

De Jacqueline Lagacé, Ph. D.

Alors qu'elle lutte contre l'arthrite/arthrose qui la fait souffrir sévèrement et la prive presque entièrement de l'usage de ses doigts, Jacqueline Lagacé découvre le régime hypotoxique du docteur Seignalet. Les résultats sont spectaculaires. Il n'en faut pas davantage pour que cette scientifique se plonge dans la lecture des articles de plus en plus nombreux qui paraissent sur l'alimentation en relation avec les différentes maladies d'inflammation chronique et se consacre à l'écriture d'un livre.

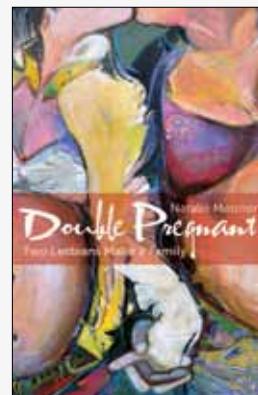

La préface de cette édition est de Bryce Wylde leader canadien de la médecine alternative et invité régulier du célèbre Dr. Oz à son émission « The Doctor Oz Show ».

Double Pregnant Two Lesbians Make a Family

By Natalie Meisner

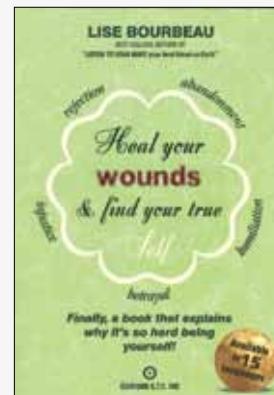

Double Pregnant is author Natalie Meisner's light-hearted, poignant and informative true story of two lesbians who want to have children. For a variety of reasons, the couple decides not to take the anonymous sperm clinic route. Taking matters into their own hands leads the couple to a series of often-hilarious "dates" with potential donors, all of whom have wildly different opinions on how the donation process should go and also of what this new, twenty-first-century version of a family will look like. Meisner divides her time between Canada and The Netherlands.

The Story of CLAC

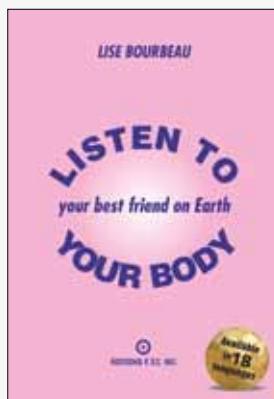

By Marco Coscione

In an international geopolitical panorama where Northern countries are increasingly in crisis and where the most interesting alternatives to sustainable development are coming from the South, the Latin American small producers, represented by the Latin American and Caribbean Network of Small Fair Trade Producers (CLAC), are assuming a more protagonistic role in the defense of the founding principles of the fair trade movement. The CLAC is also leading a process of rethinking the fair trade system and launching concrete proposals to strengthen fair trade in local, national and regional areas.

HISTORY
HISTOIREThe Little Third Reich on Lake Superior

A History of Canadian Internment Camp R

By Ernest Robert Zimmerman

Edited by Michel S. Beaulieu and David K. Ratz

For 18 months during World War II, the Canadian military interned 1,145 prisoners of war in Red Rock, Ontario. "Camp R" held an unlikely assortment of German prisoners: Nazis, anti-Nazis, Jews, soldiers, merchant seamen, and refugees whom Britain feared might comprise Hitler's rumoured "fifth column" of alien enemies residing within the Commonwealth. For the first time and in riveting detail, the author illuminates the conditions of one of Canada's forgotten POW camps. Written in an accessible, lively style, The Little Third Reich on Lake Superior will captivate military and political historians as well as non-specialists interested in the history of POWs and internment in Canada.

Meditations on Money

Balancing Life and the Global Economy

By Lloyd Salomone

Harmony? A new world order? Ideas that challenge the status quo?

How does money and materialism affect your spirituality, life, and your world? Or does it?

If you are the least bit inquisitive or interested in how money and materialism relate to politics, economics, technology, military matters, business, sociology, spirituality, nature and your life, Meditations on Money: Balancing Life and the Global Economy has woven together these disparate subjects into ten cohesively structured and themed “meditations” that take you on an enlightened journey of humanity’s past 100 years and point to what’s on the horizon in the twenty-first century.

Nonfiction Writing Power

Teaching information writing with intent and purpose

By Adrienne Gear

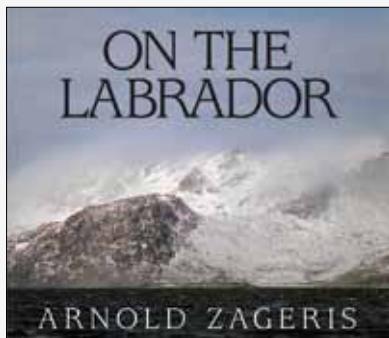

Nonfiction writing is important in a student's school life and is a skill that they will use throughout their lives. This remarkable book shows teachers how to help students recognize that they write because they have something to say. It argues that writing nonfiction well means considering intent and purpose, and choosing the most appropriate form among the various nonfiction genres. Practical and comprehensive, the book helps teachers work with students to explore their Writing Powers: to Describe, to Instruct, to Compare, to Persuade, to Explain, and to Report. Ideal support for teaching writing in the content areas, the book includes ways a particular form can link to Science, Social Studies, and other subject areas.

By Arnold Zageris

Explore this rarely seen part of Canada with Arnold Zageris as he shares his personal journey across this mysterious region through a combination of photography and personal essays. Zageris has been travelling to Northern Labrador since 1984, sometimes alone, sometimes with associates, to document the harsh and stunning beauty of the Labrador landscape, and the strength of the people who reside within its perimeters. His work has been exhibited at the Canadian Museum of Nature, the Robert McLaughlin Gallery, The Rooms in St. John's, the Centre d'expositions in Rouyn-Noranda, and the Canadian Museum of Contemporary Photography.

Sous la direction de Nathalie S. Trépanier

L'école communautaire est un concept riche de sens qui s'inscrit dans le courant de l'éducation inclusive et dont l'application démontre une certaine complexité. Nous la présentons ici à partir d'une vision synthèse construite par un ensemble de pratiques, de recherches et de réflexions menées notamment en Amérique du Nord, en Europe et en Grande-Bretagne. Cet ouvrage révèle les caractéristiques essentielles de l'école communautaire, et présente en détail certaines de ses principales dimensions. Des éléments précis de sa mise en œuvre ou de son évaluation y sont décrits, ainsi que des pistes de réflexion, de recherche et d'application de ses composantes clés.

NATURE, SCIENCE & ENVIRONMENT
NATURE, SCIENCE ET ENVIRONNEMENTPolar Bears

The Natural History of a Threatened Species

By Ian Stirling

No animal is more symbolic of the Arctic than the polar bear. In the short space of 150,000 years, it has evolved from a grizzly bear into the most specialized predator of the arctic sea ice. Through behavioural, morphological, and physiological changes in a remarkably short period of time, the polar bear has become totally adapted to living comfortably in one of the harshest environments on the planet. Yet, the survival of this unique mammal is now threatened by global climate warming.

Dr. Ian Stirling has studied the behaviour, population, ecology, and predator-prey relationships of polar bears for 40 years.

POLITIQUE ET SCIENCES SOCIALES

Social Democracy After the Cold War

Edited by Bryan Evans and Ingo Schmidt

Offering a comparative look at social democratic experience since the Cold War, the volume examines countries where social democracy has long been an influential political force—Sweden, Germany, Britain, and Australia—while also considering the history of Canada’s NDP, the social democratic tradition in the United States, and the emergence of New Left parties in Germany and the province of Québec. The case studies point to a social democracy that has confirmed its rupture with the postwar order and its role as the primary political representative of working class interests. Once marked by redistributive and egalitarian policy perspectives, social democracy has, the book argues, assumed a new role—that of a modernizing force advancing the neoliberal cause.

Strategic Nonviolent Power

The Science of Satyagraha

By Mark A. Mattaini

Strategic Nonviolent Power proposes that the route to what Gandhi described as the “undreamt of and seemingly impossible discoveries” of nonviolent resistance is the application of rigorous science. Although not a simple science, Mattaini’s application of ecological science grounded in the science of behaviour brings exceptional power to the struggle for justice and liberation. At a time when civil resistance is actively reshaping global political realities, the science of non-violent struggle deserves the attention of the scientific, activist, strategic, military, spiritual, and diplomatic communities, as well as the informed public.

ÉDUCATION ET ENSEIGNEMENTStruggling Readers

Why band-aids don't stick and worksheets don't work

By Lori Jamison Rog

The practical, classroom-tested reading instruction strategies presented in this insightful book are carefully chosen to be effective with students in grades 3-9. More than temporary patches on discrete skills, these thoughtful strategies show teachers how to give struggling readers what they really need: teaching and texts targeted to their needs; the opportunity to read texts they can and want to read; explicit instruction and guided practice in comprehension; and, most importantly, confidence in themselves as readers, writers, and thinkers. Struggling Readers is a valuable resource that will help teachers use guided reading strategies from the early grades to reach those students still struggling with the reading basics.

Everyone Has a Story

By Gayle Leona Jabour and Daniel Tigner

These uplifting stories focus on the lives of forty people, aged fifty to the late nineties, their life learnings, rich experiences and what it is that makes them who they are. They are filled with humour, vignettes of history lived, reflective of our multi-cultural world and told by a group of people who remain highly creative as they deal with the social and psychological issues that come with aging.

A high value is put on spirituality and maintaining a positive outlook on life. Some stress the importance of helping others, encourage us to keep moving and demonstrate that it is never too late to begin something new. This is an inspirational read that cuts across the generations.

Upgrading Oilsands Bitumen and Heavy Oil

By Murray R. Gray

The demand for petroleum products necessitates ongoing innovation in the science and engineering underlying oilsands extraction and upgrading. Beginning with a thorough grounding in the composition, fluid properties, reaction behaviour, and economics of bitumen and heavy oil, Murray Gray then delves into current processing technologies, particularly those used at full commercial scale. Tables of data on composition, yield, and behaviour of oilsands bitumen and heavy oil fractions are extensive. Though the focus is on bitumen from Alberta's oilsands, the science applies to upgrading of heavy oil and petroleum residue feeds worldwide.

Les 5 derniers dragons

Le sacrifice (Tome 9)

De Danielle Dumais
Illustré par Mathieu Dandurand Caron

Depuis qu'Andrick est le porteur du pentacle, Nina le trouve étrange. Surtout qu'un matin, il leur annonce d'une voix grave : « Attendez-vous à des sacrifices ! »

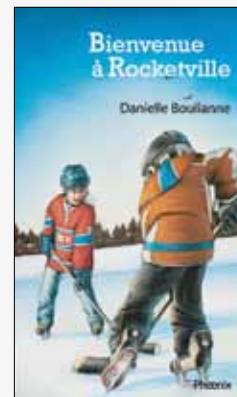

Désenchantée, sa sœur jumelle se demande si ce pentacle pendu au cou de son frère lui donne la capacité d'anticipation. Elle ne peut se résoudre à ce qu'un gros sacrifice soit sur le point d'être demandé à tous. Le mot « sacrifice » comporte une certaine ambiguïté. Serait-ce un sacrifice comme un acte de bravoure, de dévouement, ou bien le sacrifice ultime comme celui de l'immolation d'un être cher à un dieu ? Cette idée la fait frémir. Bien des surprises attendent les chevaliers des cinq derniers dragons de retour au pays des Elfes.

De Pierre-Olivier Lajoie
Illustré par Mathieu Dandurand Caron

Le monde est viré à l'enfer.

Tout ce que nous connaissons a été infecté et transformé en un véritable fléau. La nuit, des créatures ailées et cauchemardesques prennent les bâties comme perchoir. Dans les rues, les infectés se ruent en horde sur les malchanceux croisant leur chemin. Le jour, alors que le calme revient et que les monstres se cachent, les derniers humains s'entretuent et se pillent comme de véritables rapaces. Il n'y a plus de moralité, puisqu'elle vous empêchera de survivre. C'est la loi du plus fort, la loi de la survie. Je m'appelle Brynya.

Caribou Song

By Tomson Highway
Illustrated by John Rombough

Joe and Cody are young Cree brothers who follow the caribou all year, tucked into their dog sled with Mama and Papa. To entice the wandering herds, Joe plays his accordion and Cody dances, whirling like a young caribou. They are so busy playing and dancing they don't hear the rumble. Bursting from the forest, 10,000 animals fill the meadow. Joe is engulfed; he can barely see Cody a few yards away. Their parents seem to have disappeared.

What should be a moment of terror turns into something mystical and magical, as the boys open their arms and their hearts to embrace the caribou spirit.

Ariel à l'école des espions

De Evelyne Gauthier

Voici le premier tome d'une toute nouvelle série mettant en vedette Ariel Laforce, la future coqueluche des ados. Ariel a 16 ans, fréquente l'école secondaire, sort avec ses amies et aime la musique et la mode. C'est aussi une championne de jeux vidéo... Ce sont d'ailleurs ses habiletés exceptionnelles en la matière qui l'amènent à être recrutée par le Service canadien du renseignement de sécurité. Alors qu'elle fréquente l'école nationale des espions, une unité de formation d'élite ultrasecrète, l'adolescente doit combiner questionnements d'adolescente sur l'amour et la vie, classes de français et de mathématiques, rumeurs, et... secrets d'État. Une nouvelle série originale qui plonge les lecteurs dans un contexte fascinant d'espionnage qui plaira autant aux filles qu'aux garçons. Cinq autres tomes suivront.

The Comic Book War

By Jacqueline Guest

It's 1943 and World War II is raging. 15-year-old Robert Tourond is safe at home in Canada, but his three brothers are all overseas fighting the Nazis. Robert follows the exploits of his favourite comic book heroes who also battle bad guys in the comics. Robert spends his allowance on. When Robert finds a meteorite in a park near his home, in the same week that a meteorite features in his heroes' stories AND his brother sees one in Italy, Robert is convinced a magical link exists among them, and that the superheroes will protect his brothers. Can Robert and his heroes really protect all three brothers and bring them home? What will happen if reality comes crashing into his world, like a meteorite falling from space? Who will help then?

The Gift Is in the Making

Anishinaabeg Stories

By Leanne Simpson
Illustrated by Amanda Strong

The Gift Is in the Making retells previously published Anishinaabeg stories, bringing to life Anishinaabeg values and teachings to a new generation. Readers are immersed in a world where all genders are respected, the tiniest being has influence in the world, and unconditional love binds families and communities to each other and to their homeland. Sprinkled with gentle humour and the Anishinaabe language, this collection speaks to children and adults alike, and reminds us of the timelessness of stories that touch the heart.

The Gift Is in the Making is the second title in The Debwe Series.

La légende de Lezardo da Vinci

La Renaissance

By Daniel L. Moisan

It is 1519. Humanity has just emerged from the Middle Ages and the Renaissance is in full swing. A new world is dawning—a world of science and an insatiable hunger to learn. But the forces of obscurity and dogma aren't about to yield their authority without a fight. They know that knowledge brings power. Power that has long been theirs.

But can science really explain everything? Even an obscure prophecy?

From Mexico to Venice, Casablanca, Amboise, and Rome, this tale invites you to experience it all—and question all. This novel is a fantastic voyage through time, in which historical places and figures are intertwined in a world of wonder, magic, faith, and chivalry. Let the adventure begin!

Mystique

Marqués par le destin

De Francine Labrecque

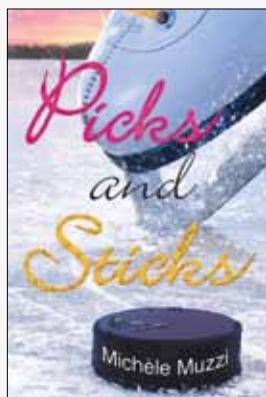

Que sait-on vraiment des anges et des démons ? Appartiennent-ils seulement au monde surnaturel ou sont-ils ancrés dans le monde réel ? C'est ce que découvriront Jared et Gabriel le jour de leur dix-septième anniversaire. Meilleurs amis depuis l'enfance, ils sont très différents l'un de l'autre. C'est au moment où une nouvelle élève, Grace, fait son entrée à l'Académie Saint-Michael que leur destinée les séparera.

Tome 1 de la trilogie.

Picks and Sticks

By Michèle Muzzi

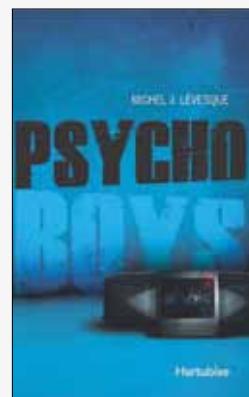

Jane Matagov, a teen figure skating sensation, finds herself on a collision course with disaster when her dormant passion for hockey is reignited during an era when girls just didn't play the game in Picks and Sticks. Following the 1972 Canada-Soviet Summit Series, Jane befriends a defecting Russian hockey coach and his enigmatic daughter. Her reawakened love for hockey—a sport she and her brother, Mike, learned from their father before his tragic death—puts her rising skating career in jeopardy. Jane's mother can't bear it, her coach can't take it, and her hockey-mad Ontario town will never be the same.

Psycho Boys

By Michel J. Lévesque

They are twins, aged 18, and totally unalike. Sydney and Ashley have one thing in common: fascination with a young gang of “villains / psycho boys,” so-called because they are from the “Patecal” generation. Patecal, a drug launched on the market 20 years earlier to reduce the risk of miscarriage, was responsible for the birth of “soulless” human beings, a generation of psychopaths. Though most of them are registered, some are still on the loose, notably the infamous Winter Craine. Now the sisters’ father, whose job is to capture these dangerous predators, has caught Winter in his grip, and decides to hold him captive in the family home. Love, suspense, and the fight between good and evil are at the heart of this dark fantasy trilogy for young adults.

September 17

By Amanda West Lewis

In July 1940, a British government-sponsored program, the Children's Overseas Reception Board (CORB), was set up to send children from Britain to Canada and other Commonwealth countries to save them from the bombing of British cities. The City of Benares was a luxury liner recruited in September 1940 to transport 90 of these children to Canada, along with the ship's regular passengers. A convoy of ships including The Benares set off from Liverpool in mid-September and some 600 miles out, after the naval escorts had withdrawn, the ship was torpedoed by a German U-boat and sank. Only 13 of the CORB children survived.

Song of the Sword

The Shards of Excalibur, Book 1

By Edward Willett

Everyone's heard the myths and stories about King Arthur, the Round Table, and Merlin. But what if, as Ariane discovers, those "myths" turn out to be historical fact? And what if someone has been carefully rewriting that history?

In this first book of a new series, modern life and ancient myths collide. Ariane's life is already pretty difficult. Things get weird whenever she touches water, and now someone, somewhere is singing to her. Soon, she's met the famed Lady of the Lake — who turns out to be an ancestor — has acquired a nerdy sidekick, and is sent on a dangerous mission to reunite the pieces of the fabled sword Excalibur. Can she figure out what it all means, much less survive the challenge?
